

A Note from the Principal

Welcome to the Pelham Memorial High School website. It's designed and continually updated to provide everyone – students, families, faculty, staff and the entire Pelham community – with important news and information about our school.

Here you'll find daily announcements, upcoming events for the current week, weather reports and more. Plus, quickly accessible directories to our faculty and staff, handy guides to school and district resources and a month-by-month calendar of 2011 - 2012 school events.

Over the years, we've achieved a well-deserved reputation for our academic excellence and pro-active approach to the safety and well-being of our students. Throughout this coming year we will continue to enhance that reputation with our outstanding academic opportunities and extensive programs of athletics, performing arts and other extra-curricular activities.

You can easily find more information about the individual curriculum goals for each of our academic departments, as well as information about our team sports, academics and department clubs, honor societies and other exciting activities by clicking the appropriate links under School Resources.

In both academics and the development of our students' character and safety, the need for a strong, ongoing partnership between faculty and staff, and students and families is essential.

Communication – the key to that partnership- begins today, with everyone making a concerted effort to stay in touch. I encourage you to contact us with your questions and concerns by phone or e-mail. E-mail addresses and phone extensions for our faculty and staff are conveniently listed in the Directory.

I look forward to working with all of you for a safe and successful 2011 - 2012 school year,

Sincerely,

Jeannine Clark
